

Here are some questions from Ellen's talk yesterday. What a great message of truth!

1. Who are all the people and tools you use when battling the rougher seas of your life?
2. Does the story of the cross and God's sacrifice and promises among other things of eternity help you lead your family and children?
3. God's timing—Ellen spent time talking through the incredible timing of provisions, friends, even the death of Charlotte. Some of those are seen in the midst of the struggle, others retrospectively. How have you seen God's impeccable timing in your life?
4. "God owes you nothing" is a statement made by Ellen. What does that statement mean to you?
5. Should you tell someone who is grieving, "God has a plan in all this"? If not, does he still use this for good somehow?
